We may also collect, store and use the following “special categories” of more sensitive personal information:

- Trade union membership.
- Information about your health, including any medical condition, health and sickness records.
- Information about criminal convictions and offences

4. How do we collect your personal data?

We collect your personal data by a variety of means. At recruitment stage we have already collected data through the application process directly from you.

Whilst you are working with us periodically, we may need to collect additional personal information from you not identified on the above list but before doing so we will provide you with a written notice setting out details of the purpose and the lawful basis of why we are collecting that data, its use, storage and your rights.

5. How will we use your personal data?

For the most part we will use your personal data for one of the following lawful bases:

- a) Where we need to perform the contract, we have entered into with you.
- b) Where we need to comply with a legal obligation.
- c) Where it is necessary for our legitimate interests (or those of a third party) and your interests and fundamental rights do not override those interests.

There are other rare occasions where we may use your personal data, which are:

- d) Where we need to protect your interests (or someone else’s interests).
- e) Where it is needed in the public interest

6. When will we use your personal data?

During your employment and for a short period after the relationship has ended, we will use your personal information for specific purposes. The list below describes the purpose of our processing, the personal data involved (from clause 3 above) and the lawful basis for our processing (from clause 5 above):

- Determining the terms on which you work for us.
- Checking your right to work in the UK.
- When making payments to you to also include any necessary tax and NI deductions.
- Providing the following benefits to you including accident insurance and meals on shift.
- Liaising with your pension provider and making payments.

- Monitoring use of our information and communication systems to ensure compliance with our internal procedures and prevention of security lapses and breach of data protection laws.
- Preventing malicious software distribution.
- Gathering data analytics to assess retention and attrition rates.
- Equal opportunities monitoring.

It is possible that some of the grounds for processing will overlap.

7. Your failure to provide information

We will only ask you to provide information which we believe is necessary for the performance of the contractual employment relationship (for example bank account details to pay you) or our associated legal obligations (for example giving salary information to HMRC). If you fail to provide certain information when requested we may not be able to meet our contractual obligations to you or we may not be able to fulfil our legal obligations.

8. What happens if we need to use your personal data for a new purpose?

We will only use your personal data for the stated purposes, unless we consider that there is a need to use it for another reason and that reason is compatible with the original purpose. However, if we consider that it is necessary and reasonable to use your personal data for an unrelated purpose, we will notify you and explain the legal basis which allows us to do so.

There may be circumstances where we have to process your personal data without your knowledge or consent, where this is required by law and in compliance with the above rules.

9. How do we use your sensitive personal information data?

Any personal data which reveals your, ethnic origin, political opinions, religious and philosophical beliefs, trade union membership, genetic, biometric or health data, sex life and sexual orientations will be regarded as special categories of personal data. We will only use this data in the following ways:

- In order to comply with employment and other laws when processing and managing situations connected with absences arising in relation to your sickness or family/dependent related leave.
- To ensure we meet our health and safety obligations towards you and other employment related obligations we will use information about your physical or mental health or disability status to assess your capability to perform your role, monitor and manage your sickness absence, provide appropriate workplace adjustments and administer health related benefits.
- Where it is needed in the public interest, for example for equal opportunity monitoring and reporting.

There may be circumstances where we need to process this type of information for legal claims or to protect your interests (or someone else's) and you are not able capable of giving your consent or where the relevant information has already been made public.

10. Do we need your consent to use sensitive personal data?

If we are using your personal sensitive data in accordance with our written policy to perform our legal obligations or exercise specific rights connected to your employment, in these circumstances we do not need your written consent to use sensitive personal data.

However, in limited circumstances, we may request your written consent to allow us to process your sensitive personal data. For example, your written consent will be required before we instruct a medical practitioner to prepare a medical report. If, it becomes necessary to request your consent to process your sensitive personal data, we will provide you with details of the information that we require and why we need it, so that you can decide whether you wish to provide your consent. It is not a condition of your contract of employment with us that you must agree to any request for consent. Giving consent will always be a decision made by your freewill/choice.

11. Criminal convictions

We will hold information about criminal convictions through the completion of the enhanced DBS check.

12. Automated decision making

It is our intention that you will not be subject to automated decision making which will have a significant impact on you, unless we have a lawful reason for doing so and we have notified you.

13. Will we share your personal data with third parties?

In order to meet our legal obligations connected with your employment relationship it is necessary to share your personal information with certain third parties (see below). We also need to share your data when we have legitimate business reasons for doing so and also where it is necessary in order to perform your contract.

14. Which third party service providers will we share your personal data with?

The following third-party service providers process personal information about you for the following purposes:

- Accountants
- Pension and Pensions advisor; and
- IT support

We may share your personal information with other third parties, for example in the context of the possible sale or restructuring of the business. We may also need to share your personal information with a regulator or to otherwise comply with the law.

15. Third party service providers and data security

Third party service providers are only permitted to process your personal data in accordance with our specified instructions. They are also required to take appropriate measures to protect your privacy and personal information. We do not allow your information to be used by the third parties for its own purposes and business activities.

16. How do we ensure your personal data is secure?

We take your privacy and protection of data very seriously. Consequently, we have put in place appropriate security measures to prevent unauthorised use of your personal data. Details of the measures which are in place can be obtained from Bernadine Pritchett (Director). We will notify you and any applicable regulator of any suspected unauthorised use of your personal data.

17. How long will we keep your personal data?

We will retain your personal data for as long as is necessary to fulfil the purposes for which it was collected for. Details of retention periods for specific purposes are available in our data retention policy which is available from Bernadine Pritchett. When your employment relationship comes to an end with our business, we will either retain or securely destroy your personal data in accordance with our data retention policy or other applicable laws and regulations.

18. Your duty to inform us of any changes

In order that we can ensure that the personal data we hold in relation to you is accurate, it is important that you keep us informed of any changes to that data.

19. What rights do you have in respect of how we use your personal data?

Subject to legal limitations you have the right to:

- Request access to your data: You can ask us to provide a copy of the personal data we hold about you.
- Request corrections to be made to your data: If you think that your personal data is incomplete, inaccurate you can ask us to correct it.
- Request erasure of your data: If you consider there is no lawful basis for us to continue processing your data you can ask for that data to be deleted or removed.
- Object to the processing of your data: If our lawful basis for processing your data relates to a legitimate business interest (or third-party interest) you can raise an objection to that interest. You can also object to us using your information for direct marketing purposes.

- Request that processing restrictions be put in place: If you believe that your information is being processed without a lawful reason or that the information is incorrect you can request that a freeze/restricting is placed on the processing of the information until your concerns are addressed.
- Request a transfer of your personal data: You can ask us to transfer your personal data to a third party.

If you wish to exercise any of the above rights please contact Bernadine Pritchett.

20. Will I have to pay a fee?

You will not be expected to pay a fee to obtain your personal data unless we consider that your request for access to data is unfounded or excessive. In these circumstances we may charge you a reasonable fee or refuse to comply with your request.

21. Confirmation of identity

Whenever you make a request for access to personal data, we may request specific information to confirm your identity. This is usually done to ensure that we are releasing personal data to the correct person.

22. Right to withdraw your consent

If we have asked for your written consent to obtain information, you have the right to withdraw your consent at any time. To withdraw your consent please contact Bernadine Pritchett. Once we receive your notice of withdrawal, we will cease processing your data unless we have any other lawful basis on which to continue processing that data.

23. Important information about this privacy notice

We reserve the right to amend or update this privacy notice at any time. We will provide you with a new notice when we make any updates.

24. How to make a complaint

To exercise all relevant rights, queries or complaints please in the first instance contact our data representative, Bernadine Pritchett bernadine@high-oaks.co.uk. If this does not resolve your complaint to your satisfaction, you have the right to lodge a complaint with the Information Commissioners Office on 03031231113 or via email <https://ico.org.uk/global/contact-us/email/> or at the Information Commissioner's Office, Wycliffe House, Water Lane, Wilmslow, Cheshire, SK9 5AF, England.
